Litigation Strategies for Intellectual Property Cases provides an authoritative, insider's perspective on utilizing successful techniques in IP litigation cases. Featuring partners and directors from some of the nation's leading law firms, these experts guide the reader through the most important elements of IP litigation cases and the factors to consider when developing a strategy for your client. From understanding the client's ultimate goal to conducting effective jury selection, the authors highlight the process of preparing and presenting the case and emphasize how recent case decisions, new trends, and industry standards have impacted their decision making. Additionally, these leaders discuss the effects of the economic crisis on IP litigation and speculate on the future of infringement claims and standards. The different niches represented and the breadth of perspectives presented enable readers to get inside some of the great legal minds of today, as these experienced lawyers offer up their thoughts around the keys to success within this technical area of law. Inside the Minds provides readers with proven business intelligence from C-Level executives and lawyers (Chairman, CEO, CFO, CMO, Partner) from the world's most respected companies and firms nationwide. Each chapter is comparable to an essay/thought leadership piece and is a future-oriented look at where an industry, profession, or topic is heading and the most important issues for the future. Each author has been selected based upon their experience and C-level standing within the professional community. Chapters include: 1. John P. Guenther, Member, Dykema Gossett PLLC – "Adapting Practices to Deal with Recent Game-Changing Cases" 2. Gregg I. Anderson, Partner, Gordon & Rees LLP – "Recent Decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court and Federal Circuit Court of Appeals Have Altered the Risk Reward Analysis of Patent Litigation" 3. Stanley M.
